

First-time buyer schemes in Jersey

September 2024

Purchasing your first property is a huge life step and, in many cases, it's important to utilise the assistance schemes on offer in Jersey to help with this.

The impact of economic changes over the course of the past few years have impacted the local property market rendering it inaccessible for many first-time buyers. Andium and the Government of Jersey have worked (in some cases, together) to roll out different schemes to assist people with purchasing property in Jersey.

Who qualifies as a first-time buyer in Jersey?

In Jersey you are classified as a first-time buyer if you:

- i. have never owned or had an interest in any residential property on your own or with someone else either in Jersey or anywhere else in the world;
- ii. have Entitled residential status or plan to buy the property with an Entitled spouse or civil partner who has also never owned a residential property anywhere in the world; and
- iii. are going to live in the property as your principal place of residence.

What are the benefits of being a first-time buyer in Jersey?

Reduced stamp duty liability

The main benefit of being a first-time buyer in Jersey is reduced stamp duty liability, if the property you're buying is under £700,000. This benefit can be utilised on any type of property across the market, not just homes restricted to first-time buyers.

First-time buyer developments

First-time buyers have the opportunity to purchase homes on specially dedicated developments for those who have never owned a property before. These homes are advertised by local estate agents and are only sold to people who are first-time buyers.

Affordable housing schemes

Another benefit of being a first-time buyer is that you can access the Government's Assisted Purchase Pathway, which allows prospective first-time buyers to purchase a home through one of various affordable housing schemes on the island.
