

Strong rankings in the Legal 500 UK 2026 guide

October 2025

Collas Crill's Guernsey and Jersey teams have maintained a strong set of rankings in the Legal 500 UK 2026 directory - with a number of notable promotions.

The Guernsey regulatory and white collar crime team have been ranked in tier 1 with their first submission in this category, with group partner Nin Ritchie and partner Mick Adkins both recognised individually.

While in Jersey the team has moved from 'firm to watch' to tier 2 in the regulatory and white collar crime category.

The firm is consistently listed in Tier 1 or 2 across its key practice areas and has received a plethora of industry endorsements on the expertise, commerciality and client-focussed approach of its teams.

Individually Victoria Yates and Ben Havard have moved to 'leading partner' with Elena Gogh being promoted to 'next gen partner' and Ben Le Page also moving up to 'leading associate'.

The directory highlights Collas Crill's deep expertise in real estate, regulatory and white collar crime, corporate, transactional and advisory private client work and dispute resolution.

Group Managing Partner Jason Romer said: 'To achieve a tier 1 ranking on the first submission is no mean feat. Congratulations to Mick and Nin for their, and the team's, recognition in the regulatory and white collar crime category.'

'Aside from the rankings, I am once again proud of the client testimonials we have received. We pride ourselves on being easy to do business with and building trusted, long-term relationships with our clients. Reading the comments from clients I can see that these core values are reflected in the service we provide.'
