

Policing problematic parking: Terres à L'Amende in Guernsey

September 2019

An aspect of property law that is unique to Guernsey, Terre A L'Amende refers to an area of land which has been designated as 'Les Terres Mises à L'Amende' (literally meaning 'penalty land') pursuant to an order of Guernsey's Royal Court.

This designation allows a landowner to enforce a set fine (presently £50.00) against those who trespass (i.e. park a vehicle) on the protected land without permission.

In this guide we provide you with a step-by-step on:

- The benefits of a Terres à L'Amende
- How to put this piece of protection in place
- The ongoing considerations
