

Collas Crill Shortlisted for WealthBriefing Offshore Law Firm of the Year 2019

January 2019

Collas Crill has been shortlisted for 'Offshore Law Firm of the Year' in the WealthBriefing European Awards 2019.

The awards recognise leading experts (both individuals and teams), products and services in wealth management, with those making the cut having demonstrated top class performance and innovation throughout 2018.

"Independence", "integrity" and "genuine insight" form the basis of the judging process which is conducted by three different panels consisting of; bankers, who judge the trusted advisor categories; trusted advisors, who are responsible for judging the banking categories; and a new panel of technology experts, to judge the tech categories.

Collas Crill group partner and head of fiduciary, Angela Calnan, said: "2018 saw another year of steady growth in our private wealth practice which was supported by the additional hire of senior associate, Cerisse Fisher, in September.

"We are delighted to have been shortlisted again for this award which is a reflection of our hard work and significant investment in the firm's fiduciary practice over recent years."

Winners will be announced at a gala awards dinner held in London on 11th April at The Guildhall.
