

The launch of the gratuity calculator app in the UAE

February 2017

All employees are entitled to end of service benefit under UAE Labour Law but this can be a headache to calculate. You may have seen that Abu Dhabi resident Glen Ferris has, this week, launched a free app on iOS to help resigning employees to figure out what they are owed.

The app is already proving very popular as is the importance of a robust end of service gratuity scheme for all UAE companies.

We have recently seen a significant uptake in end of service gratuity schemes being structured in the Channel Islands and similar "pensions" offerings being launched by our UAE corporate clients.
