

Supporting Ocean Culture Life

October 2019

Collas Crill has become an official supporter of Ocean Culture Life (OCL), an initiative founded by Jersey-born Royal photographer, Matt Porteous.

OCL is made up of a number of Ocean Guardians and describes itself as a 'community of storytellers with a shared passion for the sea who collaborate to create awareness about the beauty of our oceans'.

The Ocean Guardians all have a vested interest in protecting the ocean and promoting the benefits of the sea and coastline. Locally, they include Jersey Marine Conservation, Healing Waves and Littlefeet Environmental.

As the only professional services provider to be official supporters of OCL, Collas Crill are committed to ensuring a future of healthy oceans for generations to come.
